OLD ID, NEW ID? IT'S DOUBTFUL!!

The old LBJ - Rayburn - Connally axis is gone. Mr. Connally fractured it by joining the Republican Party, then suffered irreparable political damage by federal court charges now at trial.

The seniority committee structure crumbled early this year when senior Texas chairmen Poage and Patman among others suffered Democratic Party caucus defeats, seniority like Cong. Ray Roberts' stemming still from the Rayburn-Johnson legislative continuity.

Power stemming from those years continues, but its parameters are dimming each new year in the 1970s. Age, no matter how experienced or powerful, gives way to youth. No generation has priority over the qualifications to resolve another generation's problems, though the older may have created some.

Not every solution is a political solution, and particularly not a federal solution. Once the young Turks complete assertion in the new House Democratic caucus, for example, they will immerse themselves in the tedium of solving what they so badly wanted the right to solve. And at times, they might wish they could give back those problems.

This does not mean, however, they should reverse themselves unless some new system is more figment than fact.

I admire men who carry on in the wisdom of years and success. That identity goes unquestioned, but the ability for successors to identify with it is quite questionable. In fact, the new Democratic House already has answered it. Young Turks are no different in this generation than a generation ago, except there is not nearly as much certainty to pass on.

116-116-116

Winston Churchill lasted one more elected term after his war years at 10 Downing Street. That re-election was more out of national gratitude than public confidence.

The picture of the old warrior going to political battle one more time and winning is a familiar one. Nixon did it. Truman did it. Teddy Roosevelt did it, FDR twice.

In times like these, when the GOP shows under 20 percent of the electorate, the Democrats 40 percent or less, it is even more apparent new solutions are sought.

About 40 percent of the electorate, approaching the point of national plurality power, has as much attraction as its popular equal or the traditional minority party. A third force lacks money.

It is possible that money might be forthcoming on a national scale to three parties, forcing a real campaign if the third party early draws up a viable platform and ticket.

Trouble is, the man has not appeared who outweighs candidates for the traditional parties, who themselves will find funding less lucrative than election years prior to 1976.

It is possible youth will emerge yet, because the lineage is broken in power-packed Texas and is irresolute as well in any other region.

Events will determine who emerges in nomination and third-force organization. It may be a surprise, but it will not be residuals of a past generation.

Street Paving Due

Long-delayed street work paid for several years ago by residents on several Cameron streets was put at the top of a priority list by the city council at a regular meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Council also heard of more street work planned in the city by the Texas Highway Department.

Paving to be done while Bandas is in town to do the urban renewal extension streets includes 2 blocks on Milam where pavement was displaced for a storm sewer, paving on North Houston, East Third, Travis from 2nd to 4th, one-half block on Fifth street, and the east and west sides of city park.

Engineers from the Texas Highway Department showed a map of the city thoroughfares marked to be possibly a part of a paving program to be paid for with federal funds. The engineers explained that the program has not been approved by the Highway Commission but approval is expected shortly and the city will be notified.

First projects in that program would include Fannin St., part of 22nd, and the old Waco highway to Industrial Blvd.

In other business, council adopted a resolution approving goals set forth by the city's Bicentennial Commission for a program to enable the city to be named a Bicentennial city. The proposal was presented by Jim Lafferty, chairman of the Commission.

Council tabled bids on an alert system for the fire department until the next meeting, and heard a report from the police chief on an accident in which one of the patrol cars was damaged.

Councilman Lawrence Zotz and councilwoman Jan Luecke were sworn in and Zotz was named mayor protem by Mayor Gene Blake.

Approval was given to a plan by Folk Fete board to have a bicycle race in downtown Cameron on June 6.

Works Supt. Walter Wallace reported vandalism at Oak Hill Cemetery, telling that a number of markers had been turned over or knocked down. He was instructed to get a wrecker to help put them back up.

Present for the meeting were Zotz, Luecke, and Gene Lumpkin. Councilmen Lincoln Mondrik and Ernest Moore were absent.

Jr. Historians Win Awards At State Meet

Twenty-one members of Junior Historian Chapter 103 of Yoe High School attended the annual state meeting in San Antonio on April 11-12 and brought home awards.

During the awards luncheon the following award winners were honored:

In the special category writing competition sponsored by Texas Bureau of Economic Understanding, Melissa Delony placed first with her paper, "Energy Crisis Makes Pioneer Dream A Modern Miracle." Lauren Edmonds placed third for "Railroads in Milam Counry." Both awards consisted of a check, a Texas book, and a certificate.

In the general writing contest Linda Hughes placed sixth with her paper, "Four Weekend Tours of Milam County." She received a check, book, and certificate.

The Historical Exhibits Contest is a rapidly growing part of the Junior Historian program. In this contest ribbons were given to those who placed, including:

Second place to Brenda Gilbert for "Texas Fashions, 1875-1915." Honorable mention ribbons for Melissa Delony's "Dollies of An Unusual Kind," to Lee Dodd for "Trapping," and to Richard Raymond for "Tools."

The Yoe Chapter was judged an Honor Chapter and received a trophy for activities during the school year.

A slide presentation of the Yoe High History Fair, prepared by Mike Peck, was shown to the sponsors at their breakfast on Saturday morning.

Chapter president Lynn Willy played guitar and sang during the Fiesta Mixer on Friday night and represented the chapter at the student breakfast Saturday morning.

Trustees Meeting Monday To Review Long-Range Plans

Cameron school trustees will meet in a special session Monday morning to have another look at long-range building plans after discussing conditions in the high school gym at a regular meeting Monday night.

The discussion centered on conditions in the girls's shower anddressing rooms, which had been inspected by board members Carol Barr and Betsy Brown. But board member John Henderson reminded trustees that they had twice bypassed plans for new science rooms for Yoe High by building a new field house and kindergarten classrooms.

Henderson said he was opposed to this and said that excess emphasis was being given to physical education. Board members then agreed to meet Monday to re-evaluate plans and study the gym problems.

Brown said conditions in the girls' gym are "very sad," and said she wouldn't want anyone's daughter in there. She spoke of rotted walls and general conditions, including lack of adequate space. Barr said applicants for PE teachers said they had never seen conditions that bad anywhere.

Coach Ed Cauley said there will not be enough space for the new girls physical education and athletics program due to start next school year. He said there is not enough space, and "what's there is bad."

In other business, board held election for officers and re-elected all officers by acclamation: Calvin Cobb, president; Betsy Brown, vice-president; and Billy Hornung, secretary. Newly elected board members Hornung and Joe Walzel were sworn in.

A delegation from the local tennis association appeared before the board asking for four new courts to be built next to the present ones on the school campus. Spokesman for the group, Charlie Kunz, said cost of the four courts would be $6,345.

Kunz said both Lions Clubs had committed funds to the project along with the Knights of Columbus and individuals, and asked that the school furnish one-fourth of the funds.

Trustee Forrest Sapp pointed out that space for the courts should not be taken from the school playground as the school was short of space now and this was one of the criticisms of the Texas Education Agency's accreditation team which had visited and judged the schools.

In answer to the suggestion of building the courts somewhere else, Kunz said it would be better to have the courts all together for tournaments, which can't be held on scattered courts.

Board members approved a new school calendar for the 1975-76 school year which has August 25 as a starting date and May 27 for the closing of schools.

They also gave a vote of appreciation to the ag students for building trash can racks for the school and discussed having the street next to the football field graded to fill up holes.

A leave of absence was granted to Martha Whalen, and Judy Todd and Carolyn Chandler were hired as junior high teachers.

School tax assessor-collector Theo Aschenbeck reported that tax collections were slightly behind those of last year and that his office is continuing to press delinquent accounts.

Band director Jerry Bartley reported on plans for school choirs for both high and junior high students for next year, along with plans for a music appreciation class at junior high. He said he is still interviewing applicants for an assistant band director and that his department will need a budget next year.

A short discussion was held on the merits of combining the high school baccalaureate service with the graduation ceremonies, or following Rockdale's example which has the different churches holding special services for its graduates in place of the baccalaureate service. It was pointed out that good weather for two services, baccalaureate and graduation, might be expecting too much.

Before adjourning, the board passed a resolution backing efforts of the city's Bicentennial Commission to get official recognition of the city as a Bicentennial Community.

DWI Charges Filed On Weekend Accidents

Two drivers involved in accidents over the weekend in Cameron were charged with driving while intoxicated, and another accident sent one person to a local hospital.

Terry Taylor, 20, of Cameron, was charged with DWI after his car was in collision with a city patrol car driven by Police Chief Felipe Martinez Saturday night. According to police reports, the collision occured five miles west of Highway 77 on Farm Road 485 while another police car was in pursuit. Martinez was attempting to intercept Taylor.

Taylor was charged with DWI with four counts ranging from speeding to driving on the wrong side of the road. He was placed in county jail Saturday night. No injuries were reported and the police unit left the scene under its own power.

Again on Saturday night, a driver involved in an accident was charged with DWI and leaving the scene of the accident. He was Anthony Anastasiades of Rosebud. His car was in collision with a car driven by Craig White of Cameron on Fourth Street. After hitting White's car Anastasiades left the scene and was arrested at Fourth and Columbus.

An accident at 1:30 a.m. Sunday sent Mike Young of Cameron to St. Edward Hospital where he was kept overnight for observation. He was a passenger in a car driven by Ricky Sapp, also of Cameron, which struck a tree at 12th and Washington.

Rummel, Johns To Attend Science Meeting

A Yoe High School student and teacher have been selected to attend a nuclear science symposium at the University of Texas at Austin June 4-7, Manager Larry Morrow of Texas Power & Light Company announced.

The student selected is Glenn Rummel and the teacher chosen is Fred Johns. The symposium will be sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. Student and teacher are being sponsored by Texas Power & Light Company.

Buddy Dulin, superintendent of schools, announced the names of the two attendees. They will join more than 550 other honor students and teachers from over the state of Texas at the meeting.

County Studies Plans For New Tax Office

Milam County Commissioners, meeting in regular session Monday morning, heard that architect's plans for a new tax office are now being studied by Valter White, county tax assessor-collector. The tax office will be built in the space next to the new county jail.

Commissioners also heard several requests and a report from the county auditor that expenses are running much higher than they were last year.

Among the requests was one from Texas Resource Development Corporation of Houston, seeking permission to do core drilling in county right-of-way ditches for coal. The company will pay $25 to the county and the same amount to the landowner for each hole drilled. Action was tabled until Thursday's court meeting.

Game Warden Dale Moore appeared before commissioners and asked for something to be done about his radio, which is not on the frequency of the newly installed radio equipment for the sheriff's department and city police. He pointed out that the Highway Patrol and the Game Warden are the only uniformed law officials in the county and his radio is needed in the line of duty. He said in case of emergency his present radio would be no good as he could not communicate with other officers.

Another request was from Ernie Moore, city manager for Rockdale. Moore asked commissioners to pay for upaid ambulance calls answered by the Rockdale ambulance service. He said the service had answered 150 calls in the past year, and about 50 percent of them had not been paid. The service charges $50 for a call.

He said the service needs help if it is to continue, but it was pointed out that if the county paid for Rockdale ambulance calls, the two private ambulance services in Cameron would want the same thing. Two funeral homes in Cameron handle ambulance calls but the funeral home in Rockdale stopped its ambulance service, Moore said. Moore said they answered calls from all over the southern part of the county but the city pays for the equipment and manpower needed to maintain the service.

No action was taken on the request.

At this time County Auditor John Andres told commissioners that county government was costing $3,100 more a month to run than it did last year, and it appears that expenses will run $26,000 more than was budgeted for the year.

A request from the highway patrolmen at Rockdale for a moving radar system for their patrol car was denied for lack of funds in that budget this year.

In other business, commissioners discussed where to move the county Extension office, which is now above Citizens National Bank and which will have to be moved due to bank remodeling. They also agreed to advertise for bids on a lot in Buckholts owned by the county, and gave Commissioner LaVert McKinney permission to sell an old tank car and an old truck.

Ships And Planes And Cattle...

No satisfactory explanation has been given for strange cattle losses where no trace of blood is found around a disembowled carcass.

And no solution is forthcoming on the disappearance of planes and ships in the "Bermuda Triangle," that expanse of sea in the vicinity of off-coast Florida-West Indies.

The strange deaths of the cattle in Texas and Northwest are recent. The missing planes and ships are a matter of record since World War II.

Extra-terrestrial intervention is given some validity in the Bermuda Triangle, because no explanation by physical law satisfies. Outer spacemen are mentioned in passing for the dead cattle.

If space travelers wonder about the state of technology in air and sea travel here, they might also wonder about our primary source of meat. Is this why ships and planes disappear?

Who knows? Nobody comes back from such a peculiar incident in the Bermuda Triangle. And we're no brighter in trying to explain who viscerates livestock with antiseptic skill in open fields.

Old New Again....

We ran across a cook book published by "the Ladies of Calvert Civic League" the other day.

Beside the idea of producing a 125-page cookbook, it is unusual to republish a cookbook of a couple generations past.

From a table of measures to chapters on beverages, cakes, candies, cheese, other pastries, desserts, eggs and omelets, fish and oysters, meats, pickles, preserves, salads, puddings, sandwiches, soup and just about anything, we may have forgotten in the culinary arts, it is there.

Maybe it says something about the "good life" lasting longer than a few weeks or a few years. Good food is part of it.

Calvert is an historic town. The original ads of the original cookbook are a reminder of the past, and easily as interesting reading to the non-cook.

But the gourmet will find all kind of alternatives in this publication. We need not go far to find the imagination to make the past contemporary.

The old is new again.

Numbers Game Works...

The numbers game worked for a Mrs. Rosemary Stoner of Palestine, Ill., who received a letter misaddressed but properly zipcoded.

Address on the envelope read: Ms. Nine Rosemary, R.R. 2, Palestine, Indiana 62451.

Her last name was left off, and the wrong state was addressed.

But because the zip code numbers, the ones it has taken the public so long to remember to use, were correct, Mrs. Stoner got her letter.

No doubt there is also hope for computer billings, numbers for names, licenses, military and all other categories of modern experience.

Just remember it's Cameron 76520. Or the appropriate ID for your town or mail zone.

It works.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

FIGHTS UNION LOOTING

REP. JAKE GARN (Utah) . . .I urge my colleagues to read "Still No Right To Strike Against Government Entity," . . .a timely editorial printed in the Desert News. . I ask unamimous consent that the editorial be printed in the Record. (The condensed editorial follows):

The right to organize unions among government employes is now widely recognized--provided the rights are safeguarded, for those who do not choose to join a union.

So Governor Calvin L. Rampton was correct this week when he warned the Utah Public Employees Assocation (UPEA) that any voluntary absence from work by a state officer or employee without authorizatin would be considered a resignation from the state employment. In other words --fired.

Unions should not be given the power to conduct raids on the public treasury at will. Governments must be the servant of all, and not a source of money to be looted by special interests.

There are already movements in the 94th Congress to impose not only collective bargaining on all tax-supported units of government below the federal level, but to require compulsory union membership as well. At least (3) bills are currently before Congress to achieve those objectives: H.R. 8679, the Clay bill, and two Senate bills, S.3294 and S. 8295, supported by Harrison Williams (D- New Jersey.)

The Clay bill considered the toughest of the three, would obligate every "state, political subdivision, town, city, county, borough, district, school board, board of regents, public or quasi-public corporations, or any other entity which is tax supported." to abide by provisions of the bill and to obey the decision s of the National Public Employment Relations Commission.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

To paraphrase an ancient quotation, "The forces of evil can succeed only when good men do nothing." Your congressmen would welcome your views regarding the bills in question. A congressman's mail reflects taxpayer's interest. Few taxpayers can effectively fight an increase in their property tax

Texans Will Vote On New Constitution

Texans are going to get to vote on a new constitution this year after all.

Final legislative agreement on the article-by-article revision proposal will send it to the polls November 4 for a showdown decision by voters.

A major campaign is shaping up for the document, and several efforts can be expected against individual sections.

At least, the revision is shorter, simpler and better organized than the present patched-up constitution. It would give the governor needed fiscal controls, appointive power and agency reorganization authority.

The proposed unified court system is not without some strong criticism, as well as backing. The finance article requires uniform standards and procedures for tax appraisal and countywide appraisals.

Counties, through the new local government article, would be able to change their governmental structure and adopt ordinances. Environmental protection would be mandated along with access to comprehensive health care and equal education.

Voters will decide earlier on two constitutional changes — on April 22. On the ballot then are recommended "emergency" improvements in state employees' and school teachers' retirement programs and a $600 a month pay scale and expense account increases for legislators.

MONEY RUNNING OUT

State revenues, rapidly shrinking in spite of a once-fat $1 billion "surplus," will be far short of needs for real school finance reform, two government officials maintain.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Legislative Budget Board chairman, predicted about $450 million to $500 million will be available after the general state budget is approved. LBB Director Tom Keel estimated the main budget "leftover" at $472.8 million. That's nearly $300 million below the most modest pricetag of major education finance bills backed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Hobby said the teachers will get a pay raise — less than they are asking — but many other provisions of the Briscoe and Texas State Teachers Association bills cannot be financed.

PRIMARY DELAYED

Presidential preference primary legislation went to conference committee with initial Senate instruction to retain a self-destruct feature which would make the legislation effective for 1976 only.

Sponsors are still trying to get rid of the mandate so they can make the primary a permanent election procedure, unless repealed, as is the case with most laws.

WATERWAYS BILL PASSED

The Senate designated Texas Highway Department as state sponsor for a joint state-federal effort to maintain 426 miles of Gulf Intracoastal waterways.

The Department will cooperate by providing spoil disposal areas along the 426 mile main channel from the Sabine River to Brownsville.

COURTS SPEAK

The State Supreme Court will review a Laredo case which Atty. Gen. John Hill claims may have major consequences for enforcement of deceptive trade practices court orders.

The High Court will also hear arguments May 14 in Exxon's appeal from a damage verdict following suicide of an Abilene truck driver who was injured earlier in a refinery accident.

Two wives of a Chambers County man who died in a Java Sea shipwreck in 1970 are entitled to inherit from his $51,031 insurance-and-unpaid wages estate, the Supreme Court held.

A $10,500 jury award to a Marshall farmer for pollution damage from Atlas Chemical Industries effluent was upheld by the High Court, but a $25,000 exemplary damages award was rejected.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a rape conviction of four San Antonio men because their trial was not postponed to accomodate a lawyer-legislator who had been called into special session.

A Hillsboro burglary conviction of two was also reversed since the jury relied on testimony of an accomplice witness.

AG OPINIONS

Where a county tax assessor-collector is required to assume collection of a city's taxes, he must do so without regard to whether the city's ratio of assessment for prior years has been different from the county's, the Attorney General has held.

In another recent opinion, Hill concluded planning and development of state parks and historic sites may be financed from Texas Parks Fund 31 financed by cigarette taxes.

COUNTIES SHIFTED

Seven West Texas counties have been moved from the North-Northwest Territory to the Central Inland Territory, with a reduction of homeowners and extended coverage rates.

Montague, Jack, Young, Wise, Eastland, Brown and Stephens counties asked the realignment for insurance on buildings. Counties said they didn't have hail, tornado and windstorm damage sufficient to require they stay in the high-rate territory.

SHORT SNORTS

Comptroller Bob Bullock reported unemployment payments climbed 25 per cent last month, to a March total of $20.4 million. The Comptroller said tax revenues will decline when unemployment payments exceed $1 million.

Helath Maintenance Organization legislation, providing for a new system of pre-paid, fixed-premium medical and health care services, passed the Senate and is expected to pass the House.

Texas Research League said a tax bill may be necessary this year, regardless of Gov. Briscoe's threats to veto one.

The Governor signed into law a bill assigning priority to in-state use of gas produced from state-owned land.

School teachers plan a giant rally here April 26 to demonstrate support for public school finance reform — and $10,000 a year minimum salaries for teachers.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to the latest government figures, a family of four requires an annual income of $14,300 to maintain a moderate standard of living and $20,800 if it wants to enjoy a few luxuries. If it can abide living at an austere level, it can get by on $9,200.

Some people have scoffed at these figures, saying they're way too high, but I have confidence in them because they were prepared by government workers in Washington making from $40,000 to $60,000 a year by claiming that they can't get by on that.

People who think thes e figures are too high don't understand the thinking of the men who established this government 200 years ago.

For example, everybody knows their main plank was the right of every person to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

All right, how can you pursue happiness sitting on the bank when the fish are biting out in the middle of the lake?

Clearly, the Founding Fathers intended for everybody to have a motorboat. There goes a thousand dollars right there, if you can abide the austere level. Five or six thousand if you want a few luxuries.

Maybe through ignorance or low standards some people were willing to open up the west riding in un-air-conditioned covered wagons with two-wheel brakes and no power steering and a busted guitar for music, but start out on a trip today in August in the car with no radio and twokids in the back seat an d everybody knows you're pursuing misery, not happiness. If the principles on which this government was founded means anything, they mean a man is entitled to take a vacation trip in comfort. Add another thousand dollars to the cost of living.

I could go on, but you can see how hard it is to get along on $20,000 a year, not to mention $14,000. And that's just for the ordinary way of life. If you want to run for Congress it takes around $150,000 in some states. For Senator, anywhere from $500,000 to one million. For President, 10 to 20 million, on the austere level; 40 million if you want a few luxuries. Washington is out of touch with the cost of living.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

AG-GATOR--New fertilizer and chemical applicator operates in both row crops and pre-emergence fields, and is owned by Gulf Farm Center in Cameron. The new Ag-Gator has the additional advantage of row crop operation. This means farmers in the area will be able to use the liquid application service well into their growing season.

Experts See Low Cycle

By Bill McCutchen

Speakers at the Beef Cattle Shortcouse at A&M seemed to think that probably the cattle situation has hit the low point in the cycle and is on its way toward some recovery.

The recovery will be slow and a long time coming, however, according to Forest Goetsch, president of Doane's Agricultural Service, Inc. and one of the featured speakers at the conference.

Goetsch says that there will probably not be a lot of improvement for the next 2 to 3 years. He expects cow and calf numbers to increas over the next 2 years and then start to decline. This decline in numbers will then trigger better prices.

He advised cattlemen that were holding 2 calf crops to sell one of them in the next few months as he expected seasonal price increases, but warned of falling market prices this fall.

Goetsch's outlook for the swine market was much brighter. He said he expected to see $50 hogs at some markets before this summer is over, and that the market looks good for the next several years.

He predicted a .42¢ average for top hogs in 1975, .40¢ for '76 and then he expects the market to show some decline.

Other predictions he made were $3.80 milo on the Kansas City market this year, a bumper wheat crop, increases in fertilizer supplies in '76 and some drop in the cost of nitrogen fertilizers in '76.

The Land Judging team includes Lee Dodd, Ted Dodd, Douglas Price, and Margaret Graham. The Range and Pasture team members are Raymond Tomek, Raymond Lesikar, and Richard Hearell.

Raymond Tomek was seventh high individual of the contest. The five high teams of each area will compete for state honors. The state winners will compete in the national contest to be held at Oklahoma A&MU.

Other judging teams participating were the Meats team with Michael Pratt, Bryant Woodfin, Richard Sproull, and Roger Morris. Lievestock team members were Donny Marek, Buddy Shuffield, and Kirby Fleming. The Poultry team members were Gery Hollas, Dennis Mueck, and Mark Fritz.

Bill Seeks Protection For Farms

The President of the Texas Farmers Union today called on the leadership of other farm organizations, agricultural commodity groups and consumer associations in the state to support legislation introduced by State Dep. Lane Denton of Waco. The legislation would protect the family farm system of agriculture against corporation farming and outlaw vertical integration in agriculture by corporations.

In his letter to the agriculture and consumer leaders, Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman urged support of H.B. 1664 and 1665 by Rep. Denton. "If enacted into law these two bills will protect a very valuable segment of our economy, the family farmers and ranchers of the state who are the producers of our food and fiber," Naman said in Waco.

Naman added that consumers should be made aware of the importance of this legislation also. "As a safeguard to the consumers' supply of food, at reasonable prices, this legislation protects the supply source, the most efficient producers of agricultural commodities, the family farmers.

McCoy Opens New Center

The McCoy Corporation of Texas will open its 11th building supply center at 6200 Burleson Road in Austin on Thursday, April 17. The new south location was established to better serve the metropolitan Austin area and surrounding communities.

The south Austin facility will be managed by Jon Wallace, a 28 year graduate of Southwest Texas State University, who began his management career at the McCoy north Austin center in 1871.

McCoy's invites everyone to attend the grand opening of its new center.

FB Urges Fire Ant Control

The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has asked members of the Texas Congressional delegation to urge the Environmental Protection Agency to relax restrictions affecting fire ant control. A telegram from Carrol G. Chaloupka to Texas congressmen follows a USDA announcement of plans to terminate the Fire Ant Control Program, effective June 30, 1975.

Chaloupka said that "termination of the program poses an increased threat to agricultural production and human health."

The fire ant is spreading across southern states, inhabiting about 60 counties in Texas, primarily in the eastern upper-coast area. The USDA says the pest could infest one-third of the United States if not controlled. The fire ant eats grain out of the ground before it germinates, has been known to sting new-born calves to death, and builds mounds which damage mowing and harvesting equipment.

Besides agricultural losses, the USDA says at least 10,000 people seek medical help each year as a result of the sting of the fire ant. At least seven deaths have been attributed to the fire ant.

The EPA permits only one application of the chemical mirex per year. The USDA says three treatments of less than one teaspoon of mirex per acre, spaced over 10 to 15 months, would virtually eliminate the pest.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Same Story, Fifth Verse... Lowest in 50 Years... Crops Progressing.

Any way you figure it, agriculture income continues to erode. For the fifth consecutive month, farm prices have shown declines. Parity as of the middle of March is 68. That is down a point from a month ago and down 21 points from a year ago.

But for the first time in many months, the livestock and livestock products index did manage to show a meager one per cent increase over the previous month. But in perspective, it is down 27 per cent from the 1974 level. Contributing to the slight increase were higher prices for hogs, lambs, turkeys, and eggs.

Texas farm prices continue in the doldrums. All categories of livestock, with the exception of sheep, continue well below parity levels. Hogs, for example, in Texas averaged $37.30 per hundred pounds, while parity is $46.40.

Calf prices continue to show the most significant difference. Average calf price in Texas is 21.70 cents per pound; parity is 65.60 cents per pound. Thus, calves are bringing less than a third of the parity figure.

Crops are also in similar difficulties. Cotton in Texas averaged 25 cents per pound; parity is 75.28 cents per pound. Grain sorghum averaged $3.99 per hundredweight. This is down 20 cents from a month ago and compares with a parity price of $4.94. Wheat averaged $3.45 while parity is $4.43.

Turkeys at 37 cents per pound average compare with a 45.2 cents per pound parity. Eggs are more than a dime a dozen below parity. Wool and mohair are also at below parity prices, as is milk.

TEXAS IS FAR and away the nation's leading producer of mohair. But mohair production in the state is now at its lowest level in 50 years.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that production of mohair in the state in 1974 amounted to 8,400,000 pounds. This is the smallest since 1924. The 1974 production is down 15 per cent below 1973.

The average price for mohair was $1.37 per pound; this is down 50 cents from the 1973 high of $1.87. Total value of the 1974 mohair clip is $11.5 million, which is down 38 per cent from the 1973 value.

The number of goats and kids clipped in 1974 was set at 1,175,000 head, which is a decline of 19 per cent from 1973.

SPRINGTIME throughout the state finds crops making good progress. The winter wheat crop will be harvested in Texas in May. Wheat and oats are making good to excellent progress.

Most livestock have been removed from fields where a grain crop is expected and many fields in the southern half of the state have already headed out.

Cotton planting for the state is ahead of last year's schedule. Some replanting was necessary in the coastal bend and Lower Rio Grande valley as the result of cutworm and wind damage.

Sorghum planting is about on schedule with last year. More than a third of the crop has been seeded.

Corn planting is more than half completed. Some damage has been reported due to high winds, and cutworms.

Sugarbeet seeding is about 50 per cent complete at this time. Peanut planting is underway. Peach trees are blooming throughout the state, and pecan buds have filled out over Texas.

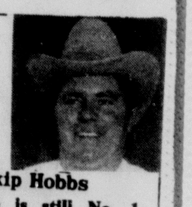
TEXAS TALK



By Skip Hobbs

Agriculture is still No. 1. Although only about 4.5% of the population works on farms, another 25% of working Americans are employed in directly related industries. Food transportation, marketing, financing, manufacturing, chemical development and textiling are a few of the businesses which push the agricultural industry to the nation's number one position, accounting for nearly 25% of the Gross National Product.

As bad as things are economically, Americans still spend only about 16 percent of their income after taxes for food. In a majority of the world's countries the amount of income paid for food exceeds 45%. In 25 years the percentage of disposable income spent for food in the United States has decreased more than 28%. As dramatic as this decrease, is the increase in selection and quality of foods available to the American consumer, evidenced by the more than 11-thousand food selections at many supermarkets.

Colonial Nursing Home News

Colonial residents took a field trip to see spring in all its glory. Fifteen residents went on a trip Sunday afternoon, April 6, in the Senior Citizens' bus. We drove out Highway 77 to Sandy Creek to see the bluebonnets, indian paintbrushes, and primroses in bloom. We journeyed downtown to see the mall and fountain, new jail, by most of the churches and out to the new industrial area and airport. Mr. William Watkins drove for us.

We wish to express our appreciation for the loan of the bus, and our thanks to the Governor's Commission on Aging for allocating a bus to Milam County.

A show and tell story hour was held Wednesday with residents contributing picture albums, wedding pictures, tin tipes of their parents, shawls from the old country, old lace, school books loaned us by Mrs. Minnie Martin, an old school bell, documents, and a 100-year-old branding iron were on display.

Twenty-one residents attended and enjoyed reminiscing about school days, their weddings, anniversaries, and the past in general.

The Reverend Ernest Helsley held the March 27 church service. His text was "The Lenten Triumph," Mrs. Eda Wilkerson and Myrtle Smith sang "Amazing Grace," and "How Great Thou Art."

In the final non-district track meet the Yoemen continue to show improvement. The speedsters rallied in the relays to finish second in the Madisonville Track Meet last Friday.

Coach Nelson Huffman's tracksters will finish their season this Friday, when the Yoemen will participate in the District 23AA track meet, hosted by Rosebud-Lott High.

According to Coach Huffman the prelims will begin at 1 p.m. and the finals will start at 5 p.m. The winners will advance to the Regional meet following Fridays' running.

****

The Yoe High girls participated in the District 23AA track meet in Austin last Friday. Placing in the events were: Mary Ann Brown, 3rd inthe 60 yard dash, and Georgia Wheeler, 3rd in the discus.

Also placing was Talullah Green, 3rd inthe high jump. In the 440 relays the Yoe girls placed sixth. The team includes Mary Ann Brown, Mary Margaret Chandler, Diana Chubb, and Talullah Green.

Running in the 880 relay was Mary Ann Brown, Diana Chubb, Talullah Green, and Janet Angell, placing 5th.

This was the first Yoe girls participation and with this year's experience, a strong foundation has been laid for a successful track program in the future.

In visiting with Coach Jon Forsythe he had the following comments about the district race in 23-AA.

Coach Forsythe said, "We are now 2-1 in district play and are now tied for first place. We will host the Leander Lions at Yoe Field Wednesday starting at 7:30. We will have to play above average against the Lions and for the remainder of the season to have a chance for the title."

I asked Coach Forsythe how the hitting game has been improving, he stated, "Our hitting has been fair, but it sure hurt us against Westlake. It must continue to improve. So must our defensive play in order to stay in the running. Joey Mondrik has been hitting the ball real well and he will move to the number 5 hitting position in the Elgin game."

Coach Forsythe ended by saying, "In our district this year, the winner could possibly lose 2 games. We must play better than average ball for the rest of the year."

Smile the Clouds Away
It's a line from an old gospel hymn, "Sing and Smile and Pray."
Our little lady with the checkered raincoat and umbrella has a most engaging smile. We're not sure whether she's happiest about her "storm gear" or her puppy dog or perhaps where she's going on this rainy day.
But this is certain—it takes preparedness to smile the clouds away.
Every Sunday in our churches millions of youngsters are learning with Christian conviction to sing and smile and pray. Their religious training is preparing them for all-weather living.
The darker the sky, the brighter the gleam in the eyes of faith.

CELEBRATION DAYS

We are proud to announce the opening of our second location to serve the people of the greater Austin area.

As always, McCoy's Building Supply Centers of Texas are trying to bring to you the best merchandise at the lowest prices! Sale prices during this Grand Opening Sale are good through April 26th! After this sale, watch for our ads in your area newspaper for what we think are some of the lowest prices on all of your building projects. Always remember that McCoy's do not carry rejects — or seconds. We carry nationally advertised products in electrical, plumbing, paint, hardware, lumber, hand tools, power tools and many other products for the homeowner — contractor — and "Do It Yourselfer."

FREE GIFTS FOR EVERYONE!

FREE GIFTS

While they last! McCoy's have balloons for the kids, yardsticks for the men and pot holders for the ladies. Be sure and attend our live Radio Show (new store only) Saturday, April 19th with your favorite KVET radio personality. KVET will give Astro tickets, record albums, and other gifts during our 3-hour broadcast Saturday, April 19th.

Register at all three locations: Austin North, Austin South, and Belton, Texas. For 4 wonderful trips to Las Vegas for two — 4 nights, 5 days. Trip includes: Leave Austin on Sunday, return Thursday; round trip air fare, Austin-Las Vegas; 3 room suite at the new Jockey Club Hotel; golf at the Dunes, midnight show at the Aladdin; Drawing every 3 days during this sale! Winner will be announced — need not be present to win — nothing to buy.

See you at McCoy's
